Chinese Push UN Off Hill

Possibly 1,000 Men Take Part In Furious Drive on Pinpoint Hill of Sniper Ridge

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Screaming Chinese infantrymen early today threw the Allies from Pinpoint Hill on Sniper Ridge in a furious night battle at close quarters.

Elements of two Chinese Red battalions, possibly 1,000 men, overran the central front height for the 14th time in a month of battle, field dispatches said. They struck behind heavy artillery fire.

South Korean defenders once more were pushed south to lower heights on shell-toned Sniper Ridge. Heavy fighting still was in progress there.

AP War Correspondent John Randolph, on the central front, said the Reds hit Allied positions on Pinpoint Hill with 500 to 750 men at 11:10 p. m.

Five hours earlier Allied artillery routed about 750 Reds advancing on Sniper from the east.

Pinpoint is the Allies' northernmost stronghold on Sniper.

United Nations officers said the Thursday night attack obviously was a Communist attempt to drive South Korean infantrymen from Pinpoint for the 14th time in the 31-day battle for the Kumhwa ridges.

Republic of Korea (ROK) infantrymen had spent the day mopping up Red remnants after recapturing the hill early Wednesday.

But they failed to dislodge Chinese entrenched on the Yoke, a maze of tunnels and caves from which the Communists struck in Thursday night's attack.

First indications of the coming attack came at dusk. Two platoons of 30 to 80 men — were spotted moving on the Yoke.

An hour and a half later Allied artillery battalions joined in a hail of high explosives on a Chinese battalion a mile and a half northwest of Pinpoint.

The Reds fled. But at 11:05 Red artillery opened up. Five minutes later the Chinese infantry assault hit Pinpoint.

Earlier in the day U. S. warplanes poured flaming jellied gasoline, bombs and napalm on entrenched Reds in the Sniper Ridge-Triangle Hill area.

Elsewhere along the 155-mile front: Allied mortar and tank fire chopped up three small Red infantry probes against Allied positions at Jackson Heights, south of Ironhorse Mountains on the Central Front.

(Washington's weekly casualty report reflected the cost of the recent heavy hill fighting. The Defense Department reported 1,318 U. S. battle casualties for the week ended last Friday. It was the largest weekly list of the year.

The list included 266 killed, bringing the war's total of killed in action to 19,712. It brought the total of all casualties — dead, missing, and wounded — to 125,387.

North Korean Communists attacking U.N. positions on the Eastern Front last night found themselves blocked by torrid streams of flaming napalm. An Allied staff officer said the Eighth Army troops probably had drums of napalm on their defense lines and detonated them when the enemy approached.

The weather, but a cloud cover still shielded most of North Korea from really effective air attacks.

India Working On New Korean Armistice Plan

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Authoritative Indian sources said today that the Indian government is working out a new Korean truce proposal providing for the screening of prisoners by neutral nations and voluntary repatriation of the POWs.

The question of prisoner repatriation is the sole issue holding up the recessed Korean armistice talks at Panmunjom.

Under the new Indian plan as reported here, the United Nations would agree to a principle that all prisoners should be sent home in keeping with the spirit of the Geneva Convention, but Red China and North Korea in turn would agree that no prisoner actually would be sent home unless the screening showed he wanted to go.

The Indian plan envisages Communist admission that prisoners should not be forced to return home against their will and agreement to abide by the screening verdict.

The prisoners would be transferred to new camps, administered by the neutral screening nations agreed on by the combatants. This is designed to meet Communist contentions that prisoners unwilling to go home have been influenced by Nationalist Chinese and South Koreans.

McGranery Asks FBI Investigation About Telegram

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney General James P. McGranery called in the FBI today to learn how a Justice Department telegram involving an ex-associate of Al Capone got sent to Chicago without McGranery's knowledge.

McGranery asked FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to take charge of the inquiry.

The telegram, dispatched last week, instructed the Chicago U. S. district attorney, Otto Kerner, Jr., to drop further proceedings against Gangster Paul (The Waiter) Ricca. The government has been trying to get Ricca back into prison to complete a ten-year sentence on an extortion conviction.

In a formal statement today disclosing that Hoover has been asked to assemble all of the facts on how the telegram got out, the Justice Department referred to the wire as having been sent "by the chief of the criminal division." Assistant Attorney General Charles B. Murray.

It was explained at the department that Murray, whose name appeared on the telegram, had seen it before it was dispatched but did not actually write it himself.

The department said the telegraphed directive to Kerner had been approved by Acting Solicitor General Robert L. Stern "but had not been cleared with the top policy group" in the department.

McGranery last night repudiated the message and countermanded it. He told Kerner to go ahead with the case.

In response to inquiries, the department said the FBI investigation should not be construed to imply "any criminal angle."

Showers Are Due Here by Friday Nite

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Showers are expected to reach Missouri by Friday night.

"This looks like a good bet," said H. L. Jacobson of the Weather Bureau. He explained that southerly winds, prevailing today, are expected to continue through tomorrow and that will give the moisture time to work up this way.

Most of Missouri, he added, appears to be well in the path of the shower belt.

As for the temperatures, the forecast calls for lows in the 40s tonight, and between 65 and 70 Friday.

The report was without further confirmation.

Members of a ROK company on the ridge were quoted by a Korean division headquarters as saying that after the shells landed they could not breathe.

American officers with the South Koreans began an immediate investigation. They emphasized that there was no confirmation and that the report should be treated with extreme caution.

They pointed out there had been numerous past instances in the Korean War in which phosphorous or smoke shells, or even fumes from high explosive shells, have been mistaken for gas by soldiers.

A special team of U. S. Chemical Warfare officers was ordered to the front within an hour to make a technical investigation.

Survivors of the ridge action were being rushed to a medical center for examination and questioning.

The Milwaukee born entertainer, who speaks fluent Russian, talked to reporters upon her arrival on board the French liner, Ile de France.

She said: "I was approached time after time by Uncle Joe's friends in Cairo and Paris. They would say: 'Your country has done nothing for you. We will help you. You're wasting your time. You can make a lot of money.'"

She said the Russian agents wanted her "to listen, keep my eyes open and my ears open." She did not elaborate further on the subject.

Two Die as Copter Explodes, Crashes

BEVERLY, Mass. (AP)—Two men died today in the crash and explosion of a Coast Guard helicopter.

Although there were no witnesses of the actual crash, residents reported that just before the explosion, the helicopter came over at a low altitude, its engine sputtering and back-firing.

South Koreans Say Chinese Reds Used Gas

CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, Friday (AP)—South Korean troops, driven from Sniper Ridge early today, charged that Chinese Communist artillery fired gas shells into their positions.

Iranian Problem To Ike

State Department Will Confer With General or His Men About New Formula

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials are expected to confer with President-elect Eisenhower or his representatives next week on a new formula for solving the Iranian problem.

It is understood also that the new approach is a subject for discussion between secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Eden in their talk in New York.

The central idea of the formula seems designed to get Iranian oil flowing out and money for it flowing in again at the earliest possible moment—without final settlement of the dispute between Iran and Britain over nationalization of Iran's oil industry.

State Department authorities feel that the longer the present impasse continues—and various Iranian agencies like the army and civil service go unpaid—the greater becomes the danger of a collapse of civil authority and the rise of Communist power in this strategic Middle Eastern land.

In the past these authorities have worked on the theory that a legal settlement of the Anglo-Iranian dispute, critical since Iran seized British-owned oil properties there last year, should logically precede or be a part of any settlement reviving the oil industry under Iranian control. But the new approach would relegate legal settlement to a lesser priority.

Eisenhower will have a chance to hear about this plan when he meets with President Truman at 2 p. m. (EST) next Tuesday, according to the White House. To prepare for an orderly change of administrations, Eisenhower has designated Sen. Lodge (R-Mass.) as his State Department liaison man.

Despite appeals from Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain and President Truman, Iranian Premier Mossadegh has failed to agree to any settlement formula thus far put forward. Mossadegh last month broke relations with the British government.

Informants do not appear highly optimistic about the new proposition.

For the proposal to succeed, the British would have to agree to let Iran begin moving out of Iran to world markets again without having final agreement on the amount of compensation Iran should pay for the nationalized properties.

It is understood, United States authorities are thinking about the problem of getting agreement of oil companies to cooperate in (1) opening up and operating oil production facilities under Iranian government control, (2) making arrangements for transporting the oil which requires about 13 tankers a day, and (3) handling the ultimate sales.

A board examiner has recommended approval of the interchange of the two companies, which supplies one-plane service between the two cities. American Airlines and Capital Airlines also seek board approval to interchange with C & S.

The board heard arguments in the case today. R. S. Maurer, attorney for C & S, said his company prefers the partnership with TWA.

Maurer said there is "a strong public need" for the interchange between C & S and TWA. It would result, he said, in one-plane service via either St. Louis or Indianapolis, and also between New York, Pittsburgh, Memphis and Houston.

Polish Government Blames Soviet for Katyn Massacre

Former Top Official of That Nation Tells House Probers That Poles Charged Mass Murder At Time Bodies Were Found

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former top Polish leader told House investigators today that the official Polish government blamed Russia for killing 15,000 Polish officers as well as the Germans announced finding some of their graves in 1943.

Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, former prime minister of the Polish government in Exile, said the Poles were convinced of Russian guilt because the Soviets had reported the officers were released but the Polish underground could find no trace of them.

"There was no doubt for us the Russians had done it," he said. Mikolajczyk testified before a special House committee investigating the killings in Katyn Forest in Western Russia. The committee says the Russians committed them to prepare for a Sovietized Poland. Moscow blames the Germans.

The Polish government in 1943 demanded an investigation by the International Red Cross. Moscow used this demand for breaking relations with exiled regime and setting up a pro-Communist interim government in Poland which grew into the present Communist administration.

Mikolajczyk, who was deputy prime minister at the time, told the congressmen today that it "was a duty," not a mistake for the Polish government to request the Red Cross investigation.

The committee yesterday disclosed a letter from President Roosevelt to Stalin, dated April 26, 1943, saying the Polish action was a "mistake" and promising to get the Poles to use more "common sense" if Stalin would soften the formal break in relations.

Mikolajczyk also said President Roosevelt told him in June, 1944, that he thought the Russians might be persuaded to ease their demand for Eastern Poland, but that there was little chance of saving Vilna on the strategic southern border.

Mikolajczyk said the Polish exile government did not learn for nine months that Polish boundaries had been settled at the British-U. S.-Russian conference at Tehran in December, 1943.

This was announced by Foreign Commissar Molotov at a Moscow meeting in October, 1944, attended by Stalin, British Prime Minister Churchill, U. S. Ambassador Averell Harriman and others.

Mikolajczyk, who also attended the meeting, said at the time he did not raise the question of the Katyn killing "because at that time the question was the life or death of the Polish nation."

No Ike Promises To HST

President-elect Will Stay Clear of Any Commitments When They Hold Meeting

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower reportedly will steer clear of any policy commitments to President Truman when they confer at the White House.

Eisenhower associates who asked not to be named said his role at the conference will be mainly that of a listener, although they emphasized that he agrees with the President that the session will amount to a demonstration of American unity.

The White House announced yesterday that the Eisenhower-Truman meeting has been set for 2 p. m. (EST) Tuesday.

In proposing the meeting last week, the President said it would help achieve an orderly transition from the old administration to the new. He mentioned a need for discussion of world problems.

Eisenhower replied that he shared Truman's hope "that we may present to the world an American unity in basic issues."

Over the week-end, the President-elect's headquarters put out a statement which said in effect that any pre-inauguration conferences with Truman administration officials would in no way bind the President-elect as to Republican policy.

The statement was intended to make it clear, the general's associates said, that any policy decisions before inauguration day—Jan. 20—would be the responsibility of the out-going administration.

Eisenhower reportedly feels strongly that it would be a mistake for him to deal in any other way at Tuesday's meeting—in either the international or the domestic fields.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, is seeking a cross section of Republican leaders' views on the Korean War situation in advance of his trip to the war zone.

That is one of the major purposes of a series of conferences the general will hold, starting with a session at his vacation retreat here tomorrow with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

GOP congressional leaders will be among those on Eisenhower's calling list when he returns to his New York headquarters next week. Aides said the President-elect wants to talk over the Korean problem with Dewey, possibly some congress members, before he confers with Truman.

Dewey, who will arrive here by plane about noon tomorrow, visited the Korean battlefield in 1951. Eisenhower pledged during the campaign that if elected he would go to Korea in an

Wants Demos To Welcome Sen. Morse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today Democratic senators should welcome Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon into their party caucus if he wants to come.

Morse, turning against President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower during the presidential campaign, quit the Republican party to support Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic nominee, and declared himself an independent.

Whether Republican senators will take reprisals against Morse in the new Senate convening Jan. 3, possibly depriving him of his present office committee assignments, is uncertain. Morse now holds places on the Armed Services and Labor Committees.

Humphrey, a leader of the "New Deal-Fair Deal" wing of the Democratic party, told a reporter the Democrats should throw open the door to Morse.

On the other hand, Humphrey said that Democratic senators who "turn their backs on the national party ticket also ought to receive their reward"—in less preferential treatment.

The matter of reprisals against Democrats who "supported the opposition" should be considered in connection with committee assignments, Humphrey said, at the caucus of Democratic senators early next year.

In a separate interview, Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo.), said anyone who used the Democratic party to get nominated and then support the Republicans "doesn't belong in the Democratic caucus."

Neither Hunt nor Humphrey called any names.

Senator-elect Price Daniel of Texas, a Democrat who had Republican endorsement, campaigned openly for Eisenhower. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Virginia Democratic leader, stopped short of urging Eisenhower's election but he disavowed the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket.

In Nevada Sen. Pat McCarran, another veteran Democrat, worked for the re-election of Republican Sen. George Malone and also exchanged barbed remarks with Stevenson.

Salesman Demonstrates Fire Truck at Fire

DES MOINES (AP) — Ray Bruckman, a fire engine salesman, heard opportunity knock.

Bruckman, of Rock Island, Ill., yesterday drove one of his trucks to the home of Ray Hoff, chief of the North Des Moines Volunteer Fire Fighters Association, in the hope of making a sale.

Arriving in time to learn of a fire on a nearby farm, he and Hoff hurried off in the new truck to help extinguish a burning hay stack.

The demonstration was great, said Hoff.

"No sale," said Bruckman.

Pupils All Silent As Thief Snatches Teacher's Purse

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Mabel White told her elementary school class to be quiet while she was out of the room yesterday—and the pupils obeyed perfectly.

Not one let out a peep when a strange man walked in and spoke to them.

"You children must be awfully good for the teacher not to be here," the children said the man told them.

And there still wasn't a sound from the pupils when he opened the door of a corner cabinet, stole the teacher's purse containing $7 and departed.

Calls Reports 'Lie' That Soviets-Iran Deal for a Treaty

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi today assailed as a "lie" reports of a projected Russian-Iranian deal for a non-aggression treaty provided Iran throws out American military missions here.

Several Tehran newspapers reported without attribution this week that Russia was offering the non-aggression pact, Iranian control of the now jointly-operated Caspian fisheries and about 12 tons of gold Iran claims the Soviets owe as refund for money issued to Russian war-time occupation troops.

Nixon Has Speaking Engagements Daily For Next 3 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-elect Nixon has enough speech invitations to keep him busy on a one-a-day basis for more than three months.

Aides told a reporter today that Nixon, already a popular speaker, has been deluged with about 100 invitations since last week's election.

They range from a request for his appearance at the inauguration of the president of Mexico Dec. 1, to invitations from several colleges for commencement addresses next June.

But Nixon so far has accepted none of them.

Aides said the next vice president is not inclined to make any speeches between now and the end of the year, and will not make any speaking engagements more than a few miles from Washington for the early months of next year.

Indonesia Raid Kills 5, Causes Fire to 29 Shops

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Two hundred unidentified armed men attacked Tjikarangan, 35 miles east of Jakarta, last night, killing five civilians and looting and burning 29 shops.

until he sees what the situation is in the Senate.

With Republicans having a bare majority in the Senate, the chances of tie votes appear greater than usual. The vice president is permitted to vote, if on hand, to break a tie.

Dark Outlook For Wheat Crop In '53

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government food officials are no longer fretting over a big reserve of wheat being stored under a federal price support program.

An Agriculture Department crop report Wednesday drew a dark picture of next year's winter wheat prospects. Because of prolonged dry weather, the outlook for this and other fall-sown grains intended for harvest next year was said to be precarious in many areas.

Thus, unless there is a quick turn in weather conditions the reserve being built up from this year's second largest wheat crop in history would be needed to help meet food and other market demands next year.

Before the dry weather set in, some officials expressed concern lest farmers produce another big crop next year and make reserves burdensome and expensive for the government.

The department said large acreages of wheat have been planted in dust in the hope that fall rains would supply the necessary moisture for germination and growth. That moisture has not yet arrived and the time is drawing short. Furthermore, a considerable portion of the intended acreage has not been planted at all.

The department's semi-final report for the 1952 crop season said production is turning out to be the second largest on record, only 2.5 per cent below the top mark set in 1948. Prospects improved nearly one per cent during October, thanks to unusually favorable harvesting weather.

This year's farm production—crops and livestock products—will set a new record because the combined output of meat animals, poultry products, milk and wool is by far the largest in history and big enough to offset the 1948 advantage in crops.

Topping this year's crops is a corn yield of 3,303,000,000 bushels, also the second largest on record. This is 10 per cent larger than the average corn crop and nearly 12 per cent larger than last year's crop.

Helping the situation is the fact that this year's corn is a good-to-excellent quality in contrast to the poor quality crop of 1948.

The livestock feed grain supply for the current year has been exceeded in only five seasons—1942, 1946, 1948, 1949 and 1950.

India Working Out New Armistice Plan

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Auto-ritative Indian sources said today that the Indian government is working out a new Korean truce proposal providing for the screening of prisoners by neutral nations and voluntary repatriation of the POW's.

The question of prisoner repatriation is the sole issue holding up the Korean armistice talks at Panmunjom.

Under the new Indian plan as reported here, the United Nations would agree in principle that all prisoners should be sent home in keeping with the Communist interpretation of the spirit of the Geneva Convention, but Red China and North Korea in turn would agree that no prisoner actually would be sent home unless the screening showed he wanted to go.

The Indian plan envisages Communist admission that prisoners should not be forced to return home against their will and agreement to abide by the screening verdict.

Insurance Given 150 Year Sentence For Killing Sweetie

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — An unemployed insurance salesman was sentenced to 150 years in prison yesterday after pleading guilty to the slaying of his former sweetheart in a Lawrenceville High School class room.

A "blasted romance" was the only explanation offered by Charles Petrach, 25, of Gary, Ind., for fatally shooting Miss Georgine Lyon, 25, high school librarian, Sept. 3. In imposing sentence, Circuit Judge Ben W. Eovaldi stipulated that Petrach should spend every Sept. 3 in solitary confinement. Petrach was scheduled to go on trial yesterday on his original plea of innocence. But he changed his plea to guilty on advice of court-appointed counsel.

No Changes Planned Or Made In Sea Zone Of Korean Defense

TOKYO (AP) — A spokesman for the United Nations Command today said "no changes have been made and none are contemplated" in the sea defense zone in Korean waters.

The zone, which aroused Russian protests, was announced Sept. 27 by Gen. Mark Clark, Allied Far East commander. Japan has expressed concern lest the zone interfere with Japanese fishing in waters around Korea.

The zone was set up, said an Army announcement, "for the purpose of preventing attacks on the coast of Korea, securing U.N.C. lines of communication and preventing the introduction of contraband or enemy agents into ROK (Republic of Korea) territory."

GOP Senator Wants To Know of Secrecy On H-Bomb Testing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican senator wants to know whether the Mid-Pacific atomic tests—from which have erupted unofficial reports of what some claim was the world's first H-bomb explosion—needed tight secrecy rules and, if so, whether they were enforced.

Sen. Bricker, a member of the Senate House Atomic Committee, told a reporter from his home at Columbus, Ohio: "I will want an explanation of whether the tight security secrecy was necessary—and, if so, whether these anonymous reported eyewitness accounts indicate that security was not properly enforced. 'All these published accounts may indicate that someone slipped a cog on enforcing security regulations.'"

Bricker said he will be in Wash-

HOLDING DOWN RATES

* Here is a scene from our billing department. While rarely visited by our customers, this operation is an important customer service.

This streamlined, modern billing system helps hold down rates for electric service. And that's important to each of our customers. The central billing system is another part of the whole job in providing you with dependable, low-cost power.

It is one of many reasons why Missouri Public Service Company has not been forced to raise rates like other companies. MPS is one electric utility in the state which has not sought rate increases during the past two years.

Engineering and management know-how found the answers, without rate increases, to the problems of increased operating costs and higher taxes.

The efficient, central billing system was one of those answers. The department, headed by John Witter, takes the time and talents of nine of our skilled people. Shown here, left to right, are Virginia Raker, Mary Dean Pryor, and Barbara Dyer, all of Warrensburg.

Steelworkers Ask To Boost Prexy's Salary $15,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The CIO Steelworkers Union has formally asked government permission to boost the salary of the union's president from $25,000 to $40,000 a year.

The application was filed with the Salary Stabilization Board (SSB) a week ago today, it was learned. Three days later Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the Steelworkers Union, died suddenly in San Francisco.

The application requests approval not only for the $15,000 raise for the union's president, but for increases from $15,000 to $25,000 for the union's two other top officers, Vice President James G. Thimmes and Secretary-Treasurer David J. McDonald.

Approval was also sought to raise annual salaries of members of the steelworkers' board of directors from $8,000 to $12,000.

All the increases were voted by the union's executive board on Aug. 20, but the amounts have not been paid, it was understood, and for some reason the request for government permission for the raises was held up until last week.

Murray received no salary as president of the CIO.

Boy, 3, Walks Through Fire on a Dare; Lives

NEW YORK (AP) — A playmate's dare sent 3-year-old Joseph Sena walking through a bonfire and emerging as a human torch.

The youngster was playing yesterday with chums near his home in the Red Hook section of Brooklyn when he calmly toddled into and through the blaze.

Charles La Rocco, 40, a city-employed bus driver, saw what had happened and dashed out to the boy. La Rocco beat out the flames with his hands; then wrapped Joseph in blankets and drove him to a hospital.

Today Joseph was described as in fair condition by a hospital spokesman.

When Joseph's mother asked him why he walked into the fire, the child said a boy dared him to and "I did and I fell down in it."

Eats Crow, Really, As Election Bet

NEW YORK (AP) — C. M. Vandenberg, who literally will eat crow today in a Times Square restaurant, says the meat is "rather dark and stringy—but edible."

Vandenberg, executive director of the American Heritage Foundation, headed a campaign for maximum registration and voting and promised he'd eat crow publicly if the presidential balloting failed to reach 63 million.

Thus far the official vote count is about 60 million, not including the soldier vote.

But Vandenberg decided yesterday he'd follow through on his wager. Besides, he said, he really has the crow and "it looks like a rather good one."

OBITUARIES

Norton Heffernan

Norton Heffernan, 41, prominent Pettis County farmer, died unexpectedly about 10:15 p. m. Wednesday at the Bothwell Hospital from complications following a major operation last Monday. Mr. Heffernan resided on a farm on route 5, Sedalia.

He was the son of Edward and Jennie Norton Heffernan, route 5, Sedalia, being born at the family farm on Christmas Day, Dec. 25, 1910. He spent his entire life in the neighborhood in which he resided, with the exception of time spent in college.

Mr. Heffernan attended the Maplewood rural school, was graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in the class of 1928. He attended Missouri Valley College at Marshall and also Antioch College at Yellow Springs, O.

He served as chief clerk of the Triple-A farm organization; was a member of the County Health Committee; member of the Farm Security Administration committee; member of the six-man County School Board; chairman of the 1933 Soils and Crops Conference.

As a boy Mr. Heffernan was very active in 4-H work in Pettis County. He was a member of the First Methodist Church.

He was married to Miss Celeste Collins of Sedalia on March 17, 1935. She survives as do two children, a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, and a son, Michael David, three months; his parents; a sister, Mrs. Robert M. Meyer, Hartford, Conn.; two uncles, Fred and Ben Norton, both of El Paso, Tex.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel where funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday. The Rev. Roy Bowers, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will officiate.

Burial will be in the Memorial Park Cemetery.

The body will remain at the chapel until time for the funeral.

Mrs. Ella Lindsey

Mrs. Ella Lindsey, widow of John Lindsey, a sister of A. P. Beasley, 1301 East Sixth, died Tuesday, Nov. 11, at the Home for Aged Baptists at Ironton. Mrs. Lindsey was one of four children in the Lindsey family who grew to maturity, all being deceased with the exception of Mr. Beasley.

Most of her life was spent in Boone County, her residence being at Columbia before going to Ironton.

Funeral services were held Thursday at Ironton. Mr. Beasley was unable to attend owing to poor health.

Mrs. John H. Bond

Mrs. Katie P. Bond, 75, died Wednesday night at her home, 814 East Seventh. She was a resident of Sedalia for 60 years. Death came at 7:30 p. m.

Curley Draws 12-Year Term For Molesting

Leo William Curley, 30-year-old druggist and schoolbus driver of Osborn, Mo., has been sentenced to 12 years in the Missouri penitentiary on four charges of molesting minor girls. Curley pleaded guilty in the Andrew County Circuit Court before Judge Fred H. Maughmer. Curley is the same man who was arrested last August at Higginsville and was under investigation for molesting a six-year-old girl here.

The man was released by Pettis County officers to authorities from De Kalb County for prosecution there. However, the cases were sent to Andrew County on change of venue. The young pharmacy owner was arrested last April near Osborn and charged with molesting four girls, ages 9, 10 and 11.

When brought to Sedalia after the incident here, he told police he sold his drug store because of being wrongly accused. He said he then moved to Corder, Mo., and worked for a firm in Higginsville. He denied any connection with the Sedalia incident. However, he later was identified as the man.

Curley was caught because of the alertness of a Sedalia police officer, who noticed a Ford car pull away from the M-K-T stockyard as a police car pulled up and took the license number of the car. It was checked to Curley. He continued his denials even after told of the identification.

The circuit court room at Savannah, Mo., in Andrew County was filled with persons from Osborn at the time Curley appeared and made his plea. It was stated that, between December, 1951, and February, 1952, Curley had molested the girls, three of the school bus he was driving and one in a back room of his drug store.

Harold L. Robinson, prosecuting attorney of De Kalb County, was assisted by John J. Robison, Mayville, Mo., who was representing the parents of the girls. Lewis S. Randolph, St. Joseph, represented Curley.

Curley, a veteran of World War II, is married and step-father of two children.

4-Engine Navy Plane With 11 Crashes, Burns

SHELTON, Wash. (AP) — A four-engine Navy plane with 11 men aboard crashed and burned on a hillside on the rugged, heavily timbered Olympic peninsula last night.

A farm family's report of seeing darts shoot skyward about three hours after the first mushrooming flames signaled the wilderness disaster raised a slim hope that someone may have survived.

In the face of heavy night rain and early morning fog, searchers tried by land and air to find the crashed plane.

A night-long search was carried on with planes, copping flares and turning spotlights on the rugged terrain to aid loggers, state patrolmen and military personnel in their ground search.

Reports of the flaming crash of the low-flying PB4-C privateer from the Sandpoint Naval Air Station at Seattle led to a belief overnight that no one could have survived.

However, Mr. and Mrs. Don Ragan raised a slim hope with a report of having seen two white flares shoot skyward about three hours after the crash.

Police Reports

The front door to the OK Rubber Co., between Second and Third on Washington, was found unlocked by the police. The manager was notified.

A rear door to the Liberty Theatre was found open by police and the manager notified.

Mrs. Mildred Riley, 1422 Kensington Ave., Kansas City, reported to the Sedalia Police Wednesday night that her daughter, Betty Jane, age 13, has been missing since Sunday evening.

Police Court

Eugene Burke, 17 years old, 1602 South Vermont, arrested by the police for moon driving, was fined $25 in police court Thursday morning. Burke pleaded not guilty.

After the hearing, Judge R. L. Weinrich fined the youth and then granted a stay on the fine on good behavior. He was given a lecture by the court and also received one from his father.

Five overtime parkers forfeited cash bonds of $1 each when they failed to appear in court.

Fires In The City

Sedalia's fire companies made sure to keep up with the times in "Leap Year." They have answered 366 fire alarms — an average of one a day. The 366th alarm was at 11:20 p. m. Wednesday to the residence of Wilson Brown, 403 North Montauk. The sparks from a burning trash fire set fire to the residence. Damage of about $15 resulted.

Magistrate Court

Herbert Gerken, LaMonte, was $35 and costs in Magistrate Court Thursday morning for hunting without a license.

Circuit Court

Beulah Mae Priemeyer was granted a decree of divorce Monday in Circuit Court from Earl R. Priemeyer. Attorney for the plaintiff was William F. Brown.

Assistant Attorney General Dies In 12 Story Plunge Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Abraham H. Feller, head of the United Nations legal department who, an assistant U. S. attorney general said, had been questioned by the McCarran committee, plunged to his death today from his 12th floor apartment overlooking Central Park.

Police said Feller, 47, and an $18,000 a year U. N. executive, eluded his wife's grasp and fell to his death.

Roy Cohn, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general, said that he and Robert Morris, counsel to the Internal Security Committee headed by Senator Pat McCarran (D-Nev) had questioned Feller recently.

The interrogation was about the subcommittee's current inquiry to determine possible subversion of American employees of the United Nations.

Curley Draws 12-Year Term For Molesting

Leo William Curley, 30-year-old druggist and schoolbus driver of Osborn, Mo., has been sentenced to 12 years in the Missouri penitentiary on four charges of molesting minor girls. Curley pleaded guilty in the Andrew County Circuit Court before Judge Fred H. Maughmer. Curley is the same man who was arrested last August at Higginsville and was under investigation for molesting a six-year-old girl here.

The man was released by Pettis County officers to authorities from De Kalb County for prosecution there. However, the cases were sent to Andrew County on change of venue. The young pharmacy owner was arrested last April near Osborn and charged with molesting four girls, ages 9, 10 and 11.

When brought to Sedalia after the incident here, he told police he sold his drug store because of being wrongly accused. He said he then moved to Corder, Mo., and worked for a firm in Higginsville. He denied any connection with the Sedalia incident. However, he later was identified as the man.

Curley was caught because of the alertness of a Sedalia police officer, who noticed a Ford car pull away from the M-K-T stockyard as a police car pulled up and took the license number of the car. It was checked to Curley. He continued his denials even after told of the identification.

The circuit court room at Savannah, Mo., in Andrew County was filled with persons from Osborn at the time Curley appeared and made his plea. It was stated that, between December, 1951, and February, 1952, Curley had molested the girls, three of the school bus he was driving and one in a back room of his drug store.

Harold L. Robinson, prosecuting attorney of De Kalb County, was assisted by John J. Robison, Mayville, Mo., who was representing the parents of the girls. Lewis S. Randolph, St. Joseph, represented Curley.

Curley, a veteran of World War II, is married and step-father of two children.

4-Engine Navy Plane With 11 Crashes, Burns

SHELTON, Wash. (AP) — A four-engine Navy plane with 11 men aboard crashed and burned on a hillside on the rugged, heavily timbered Olympic peninsula last night.

A farm family's report of seeing darts shoot skyward about three hours after the first mushrooming flames signaled the wilderness disaster raised a slim hope that someone may have survived.

In the face of heavy night rain and early morning fog, searchers tried by land and air to find the crashed plane.

A night-long search was carried on with planes, copping flares and turning spotlights on the rugged terrain to aid loggers, state patrolmen and military personnel in their ground search.

Reports of the flaming crash of the low-flying PB4-C privateer from the Sandpoint Naval Air Station at Seattle led to a belief overnight that no one could have survived.

However, Mr. and Mrs. Don Ragan raised a slim hope with a report of having seen two white flares shoot skyward about three hours after the crash.

Police Reports

The front door to the OK Rubber Co., between Second and Third on Washington, was found unlocked by the police. The manager was notified.

A rear door to the Liberty Theatre was found open by police and the manager notified.

Mrs. Mildred Riley, 1422 Kensington Ave., Kansas City, reported to the Sedalia Police Wednesday night that her daughter, Betty Jane, age 13, has been missing since Sunday evening.

Police Court

Eugene Burke, 17 years old, 1602 South Vermont, arrested by the police for moon driving, was fined $25 in police court Thursday morning. Burke pleaded not guilty.

After the hearing, Judge R. L. Weinrich fined the youth and then granted a stay on the fine on good behavior. He was given a lecture by the court and also received one from his father.

Five overtime parkers forfeited cash bonds of $1 each when they failed to appear in court.

Fires In The City

Sedalia's fire companies made sure to keep up with the times in "Leap Year." They have answered 366 fire alarms — an average of one a day. The 366th alarm was at 11:20 p. m. Wednesday to the residence of Wilson Brown, 403 North Montauk. The sparks from a burning trash fire set fire to the residence. Damage of about $15 resulted.

Magistrate Court

Herbert Gerken, LaMonte, was $35 and costs in Magistrate Court Thursday morning for hunting without a license.

'Boy Wonder' Youngest Ill. Governor-elect

Eds: AAgain this year AP is servicing personality sketches on new governors and senators. In accordance with practice of rotating releases, governor sketches will be serviced for PMS this time, beginning today.

By FRANK CORMIER
CHICAGO (P)—William G. Stratton, aging "boy wonder" of Illinois politics, still can lay claim to being the state's youngest governor-elect since 1883.

Stratton, 38, brought a long political record into his successful campaign against Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon who was Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's personal choice for the office.

In 1940, at 26, Stratton was labeled the "boy wonder" when elected congressman-at-large. He stood then with the Republican non-interventionists. Today he remains close to the conservative wing of the GOP.

Now state treasurer, Stratton says he has "a number of bills in mind" for presentation to the next legislature, meeting in January but isn't ready to disclose a detailed program.

He makes one promise: "definitely, there will be no tax increases."

Stratton, incidentally, will receive an annual salary of $25,000—more than twice the amount received by Stevenson. The increase, effective in January, was voted by the 1951 legislature.

Stratton's father, the late William J. Stratton, was a GOP leader and served as Illinois secretary of state from 1928 to 1932. Stratton twice sought the office once held by his father but lost each time—once in the party primary. These were his only defeats in races for statewide office.

In 1946, he won his second term as congressman-at-large, defeating the Democratic incumbent by 365,000 plurality. During World War II Stratton served in the Pacific as a Navy lieutenant.

Stratton has been married twice. He claimed desertion in divorcing his first wife in 1949. He had married her in 1934 after his graduation from the University of Arizona. He married again 18 months later.

He and his 28-year-old wife, Shirley, have two homes—a small apartment near the state capitol in Springfield, and a nine room, white stucco Victorian mansion in Morris, a Northern Illinois city of 9,000. Living with them are his two teen-age daughters by his first wife.

Ike Will Meet Rhee For Top Secret Talks

PUSAN, Korea (P)—A government spokesman said today U. S. President-elect Dwight Eisenhower probably will meet President Syngman Rhee around Seoul in top secrecy.

The government has called off for security reasons a big reception for Eisenhower in Seoul, the spokesman, Clarence Rhee, said. Reports indicate a blackout will cover Eisenhower's trip to Korea until the President-elect is safely out of reach of potential Communist moves against him.

Newsman Leaves For Old Home Still a Yankee

TUPELO, Miss (P)—Nowell Anderson and his pretty wife were on their way back to their native North Dakota today because, the 26-year-old newsman said, he had been warned to leave here on grounds that he is a Yankee.

The couple started driving to Fargo, N. D., late yesterday about one hour ahead of the ultimatum which Anderson said was set by two hooded men after they roughed him up on a wild automobile ride Monday night.

"We don't like foreigners coming in here and you'd better get out of town," Anderson said the men told him.

Anderson, who had been circulating manager of the Tupelo Journal for six weeks, said he had received a n o n y m o u s telephone threats for two weeks.

Mayor George Maynard said that "the business of him (Anderson) being a 'damn Yankee' had nothing to do with his leaving. There is something more behind it."

Maynard and other civic leaders in this Northeast Mississippi town of 15,000 said they would get the true facts of the case "in order to remove the unjustified black eye against Tupelo and the South."

Anderson said he and his wife had been offered around-the-clock police protection for 30 days if they decided to stay.

"We got to thinking about what would happen after those 30 days and decided to leave," he added.

Mrs. Anderson, who is expecting their first child next April, said, "besides, I couldn't go up to town to shop without a patrolman going along."

With 10,000,000 bushels annually, Ohio ranks tenth in U. S. potato production.

Social Drinker May Be In Danger Of Being Alcoholic

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Reporter

MIAMI, Fla. (P)—The "social drinker" who imbibes two highballs every night before dinner may be in danger of becoming an incipient alcoholic, a psychiatrist from Richmond, Va., said today.

Dr. Howard R. Masters said "it has always been my belief that the normal, well-integrated individual who drinks socially will not become an alcoholic unless through disease, injury or conditioning there is some personality change for which he is not entirely responsible."

But, he told the Southern Medical Association there's a possibility that regular drinking every night before dinner can build up such a "conditioning" in a "normal social drinker."

Such an individual, he added, might establish a "conditioned reflex demand" for alcohol so that "when an environmental situation becomes intolerable and he is physically or psychologically unable to meet the situation, he may become an incipient alcoholic and potentially a sick man."

The doctor read a prepared address at the closing session of the SMA's 46th annual meeting.

Speaking of the "problem" of alcoholism to business, industry, and also to the professions, the Medical College of Virginia doctor asserted:

"Any time an individual drinks enough to be absent or late to his work and low on the job he is drinking too much and, if this is a regular or frequently recurring thing, he may be classified as an alcoholic."

It is estimated, he said, that there are between three and five million "excessive" drinkers in the United States, "and of these some 800,000 or more are chronic excessive drinkers and may be classified chronic alcoholics."

A young girl and boy walked into the office in which they are both employed.

"Look at those red socks," commented someone noticing the brilliant color that gleamed out just above the boy's shoe tops.

The boy looked down at the girl's socks which were white and there was a little questioning expression on his face.

"Your socks," someone said to him.

"Oh," he said looking down at his own socks. "I didn't know that I had these on this morning. I never knew what I am doing when I first get up in the morning."

But the office force still can't see how anybody could put on a pair of socks that screamed at you like that without knowing it, even if they were asleep.—H.L.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

John W. Stover, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, was in Kansas City attending the annual convention of the Missouri Telephone Association at Hotel President.

—1927—

The Democrat had another interesting letter from Miss Jane Rucker (now wife of Alben Barkley, vice president of the United States) telling of visits to Switzerland during several months in Rome. In a visit to the medieval city of Pisa, she and her mother, Mrs. Roy W. Rucker and brother Bill, were much impressed with the leaning tower.

—1927—

Pola Negri, famous movie star, was to have erected a $650,000 new apartment house in Los Angeles through Orange County Investment Corporation of which Dr. E. A. Wood, formerly of Sedalia, was president. She recently sold her home in Beverly Hills, Calif., for $200,000.

—1927—

Henry Heitman, for the past few years located at Lake City, Fla., returned to take a position with the Yunker-Lierman Drug Company. He was formerly employed there.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. A. D. Stinson left for Spokane, Wash., to remain during the winter. She was accompanied as far as Kansas City by her son, John T. Stinson, secretary of the Missouri State Fair.

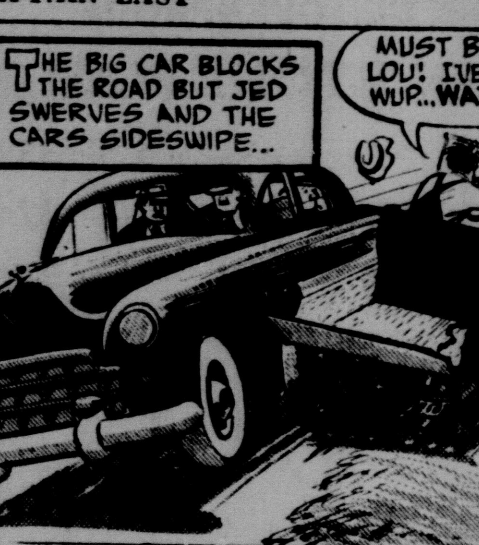

—1912—

Judge O. E. Parsons returned from Higginsville where he attended a meeting of delegates of the ninth district of Knights of Pythias lodges. A banquet and initiation of a class of about 30 candidates was a feature of the gathering.

Ike's First Supreme Court Vacancy May Be Frankfurter

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright 1952 By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — It's an ironic twist of fate that the first supreme court vacancy President Eisenhower will have to fill will probably be that of an ardent new dealer, Justice Felix Frankfurter.

Day after tomorrow, Frankfurter has the right to retire on full salary, having then reached the age of 70. And since Frankfurter was one of the early Roosevelt men who proposed that supreme court justices should get off the bench at that age, it would be consistent for him to do so.

However, a strange thing has happened to Justice Frankfurter. Though he's accused by Republican critics of being an architect of the new deal and the man who inspired the Acheson policies, actually he's become a strong Eisenhower man.

Gradually he's drifted away from Murder she yelled

By Joseph Shaffit

THE STORY: Al Kemmer, owner of High Hill Lodge, is murdered, and Eddie Fields, an entertainer, is seriously hurt in an attack by a gangster named Sonchov. The violence seems somehow connected with a gangster slaying of a small-time racketeer in the vicinity. Mrs. Morrison, aible rector, has been trying to find out. Now he learns that Midge Burnett, a guest that has been attractive, has rowed across the lake in a canoe and has not returned.

XXII

UNEASINESS tingled through my skin at the thought of Midge Burnett running into a stony-eyed, vengeful Griscomb or that excitable slob in the blue serge suit. I threw a couple of paddles into my favorite canoe. No. 5, untied the painter and pushed off.

About 300 yards out, I heard some dim yelling back at the dock. A man was waving at me. It looked vaguely like a cop's uniform. I waved back and kept going.

I settled down to some steady paddling. It was about a mile across the lake in a straight course but I'd have a lot of meandering to do if I wanted to check all the coves and dimples in the shoreline for a parked canoe.

I cut around the eastern end of the island, faced open water again. Across the clear, milky stretch, the north shore was a dense jungle.

I aimed the canoe directly north for the nearest part of the bank. It was close to 6 when I nosed up to the thickly crusted greenery. A sign was waiting for me. Nailed to a hemlock jutting out over the water, black letters on a white-painted board said "Keep Out." Okay, I wasn't disembarking here anyway. I turned left and paddled along the bank, keeping a lookout for a stranded canoe or a shipwrecked girl.

Another sign came along. "Private." Attached, like the other, to a hemlock. I was sure this was Griscomb's work; only Griscomb would have thought of this touch ministration for some time to come.

When Herbert Hoover left the White House he lived in New York, said little, moved about little, for a time was almost forgotten. He came to Washington only twice during the entire Roosevelt administration; in fact, didn't get back in the limelight until Truman appointed him head of a postwar food committee, later head of a commission on government reorganization. Hoover was so grateful he made a speech at the Gridiron Club in almost tearful praise of Truman.

But with the present outgoing President, things will be different. Determined to see that his record is going to stick around, HST is going to be in there pitching, correcting, battling as a private citizen to the very end.

Those who have talked to the President. Elect about cabinet impression that he is not going to appoint John Foster Dulles as secretary of state, and that this all-important job is more likely to go to Paul Hoffman, the Marshall Plan administrator, or John J. McCloy, former High Commissioner to Germany. Both are extremely able, with competent know-how in foreign affairs.

While Dulles also has a rich foreign affairs background, Eisenhower doesn't seem quite comfortable with him. Their relationship is similar to that of Truman and Jimmie Byrnes, who was so aggressive and had so much know-how that he sometimes overshadowed his boss.

Paul Hoffman, on the other hand, has been taken back into the full favor of the Eisenhower smile. For a time Hoffman was on the outs. One of the original Ike - rooters and chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, Hoffman scored a bit when the General embraced McCarthy and all the other isolationists. But toward the end he flew back from California and came out strong for Eisenhower. Jack McCloy probably has the best of all backgrounds to be secretary of state. He served as assistant secretary of war under FDR, then head of the World Bank, then took over the tough job of administering Germany, knows his European onions thoroughly.

Ike and advisers are plenty peeved at the top - heavy Negro vote for Stevenson. This has nothing to do with it, but there'll be no Negro member of the cabinet, as Ike once speculated. There will also be no woman in the cabinet — at least not yet. However, a woman will be put on the Social Security Board or similar Welfare Agency. . . . Mary Lord of New York, a co-chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee, will get a sub-cabinet post. . . . Other GOP women listed for rewards are Mrs. Ivy Priest, head of the Republican Women's Division; Clare Boothe Luce, glamor-girl author and wife of the publisher; Mrs. Katherine Howard, National Committeewoman for Massachusetts; and Oleta Culp Hobby, former head of the WACS, now a Texas publisher. . . . High on the Eisenhower job list is Ralph Croke of Oregon. . . . Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire and Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska have made it clear they're not seeking cabinet posts. They'll serve if needed, but aren't pushing. Both have now gone home and Ike keeps asking where they are. . . . Ex-Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska is slated to be under-secretary of agriculture — if he wants the job.

Merry-Go-Round

Here's an easy guide as to which government officials will be fired by Eisenhower and which will keep their jobs. In general, the limousine-riders — those who have chauffeurs — bus riders and trolley-car riders will hold onto their jobs. . . . There'll be a lot of changes at the White House after Jan. 20, including a change from bourbon and branch water to scotch and soda — Ike's favorite. . . . The vice president-to-be, Senator Nixon, has hinted he will try to block filibusters by ruling from the chair. His colleagues will never let him get away with it. . . . Governor Stevenson has told his personal advisers that he doesn't want to run the Democratic party, would rather quit politics. However, Wilson Wyatt and Sen. Bill Fulbright of Arkansas persuaded him to put off a final decision until February. . . . He doesn't sign his name with greek ink, but Republicans are boasting about a "Jim Farley" of their own — Ab Hermann, former GOP executive director, who has managed seven GOP senatorial campaigns in New Jersey without a single loss. Hermann recently piloted GOP Sen. Alexander Smith to re-election by a 300,000 majority, biggest senatorial landslide in New Jersey history.

pleasant-looking, three-story, white clapboard house.

But there were some things wrong with the scene. Small things. Like one of the players with his hat on, resting away on the back of his head. And something about a couple of the faces — a kind of loose, sloppy viciousness. And the voices—I couldn't get more than a few words, but they were funny words—"gaff," "take a brodie," and, after a little argument, a loud "can it, you yaps."

The order to can it came from the player facing me, a small, narrow-shouldered guy with a puffed-cheek squirrel face. I looked hard at that face. I had the feeling I'd seen it before. But I didn't have the least idea where. When I figured I'd completely circled the rear, I cut in toward the house.

A MAN was seated at the sink, peeling onions. He looked up — dark, pudgy, overworked face. "Okay," he said in a cheery voice. "You just get in."

The big white apron, I could see, wasn't so white. His hands were a little off the earthy side, too; and there was a mercury-chromed bandage on his forefinger that was tinting the onions.

"What's on the menu?" I said.

"Duck."

"Swell. Haven't tasted a real piece of duck in months."

He nodded.

"Who's the little guy playing cards outside?" I said.

Cookie ran cold water over the knife to quell the onion fumes. "You don't know him? That's Peanuts Merzanza."

"Oh, sure—sure—I didn't recognize him with that tan." And I did—at least I'd seen his picture in the papers. Peanuts had been one of a parade of reluctant witnesses before a New York grand jury investigation the numbers racket.

"Lots of people would sure like to talk to him," I said, jocularly, just one of the boys.

"Sure," said Cookie, "but how're they gonna find him?"

(To Be Continued)

The World Today— US In Awkward, Curious Spot

WASHINGTON — We are in a curious period of U. S. history.

Harry S. Truman is president of the United States even though 33 million voters have said they want a change. And he will continue to be president, with full authority and responsibility, until Dwight D. Eisenhower takes over on Jan. 20. It's an awkward situation.

Any cabinet officer or other administrator who makes a decision or issues a statement knows he does so on borrowed time. Any diplomat abroad realizes he is speaking for an administration which has had a no-confidence vote by the people.

Fortunately, Truman and Eisenhower appear to be making the best of it.

At Truman's invitation, Eisenhower has named a couple of go-betweens, and doubtless will name more. The transition should be as painless as possible.

In the past the problem has been more acute, for two reasons.

First, until the 20th Amendment to the Constitution advanced the inauguration date from March 4, the time lag was greater.

Second, not all out-going presidents and presidents-elect have displayed such willingness to cooperate as have Truman and Eisenhower.

Herbert Hoover says in his memoirs that he begged Franklin D. Roosevelt to co-operate and that Roosevelt wouldn't. Hoover thinks this helped accelerate the slide into the depression.

Undoubtedly the most critical presidential switch came in 1860 when Lincoln took over from Buchanan.

The South was seceding, a nation was crumbling. The head of the Army, Gen. Winfield Scott, said fearfully:

"A dog fight now might cause the gutters to run with blood."

Buchanan seemed to be going in circles. He thought no state had the right to secede, but also that the government had no right to keep it from seceding.

He thought he did little or nothing. Lincoln didn't help him. Buchanan had invited Lincoln to come to Washington if he wanted to, but Lincoln stayed home in Springfield, Ill.

Some historians feel this period of indecision may have prolonged the Civil War.

Baby Better Off Than Grown-up On Operation Table

LOS ANGELES (U)—A six-pound baby has a better chance on the operation table than his 40-year-old father.

That comes from one of the nation's leading baby surgeons, Dr. Orvar Swenson of Boston.

"A baby is a brand new mechanism," Dr. Swenson said yesterday, "pooh-poohing the idea that infant surgery is dangerous. The parts are all in fine working order. The heart is strong. The tolerance to anesthetic is excellent. And babies heal remarkably well."

"Wouldn't you rather work on a brand new car than try and repair an old worn-out jalopy?" he asked pediatricians and reporters at a meeting at Los Angeles Children's Hospital.

157 Battle Casualties

WASHINGTON (U)—The Defense Department today identified 157 battle casualties in Korea in a new list (No. 691) that reported 66 killed, 87 wounded, three missing and one injured.

US Professor Tries Taking 'Irk' from Work

WASHINGTON (U)—A college professor served notice on the American housewife and the African Zulu today that he is determined to help them save themselves work.

Dr. John Immer, professor of industrial management at American University here, unfolded this as part of his international plan to dispense with lost motion and thereby increase productivity and lower costs in factories, mines, stores and farms.

"Taking the irk out of work," is what they call it in England. "If the housewives get interested in work saving, their husbands haven't got a chance," Dr. Immer told a news conference.

"Give work saving five more years and there won't be even a savage Zulu who will escape the thing."

The professor, who is married, said women waste too much time doing simple things like carrying out the breakfast dishes a few cups and plates at a time. He envisioned a home of the future with a sort of crockery railroad running from the dining table to the sink. He did not explain what appeal such a device would have to folks who just eat in the kitchen.

At the very least, he suggested that home makers acquire a wheeled tray "so they can apply the accepted industrial principle of unit loading."

Immer described work saving as developing better methods and doing work in an easier way. He said in England, where he took the idea last year, it was called "taking the irk out of work." Under his system, suggestions are invited from employees, with possible awards for work saving ideas. Close cooperation is sought between workers and their supervisors. Labor union officials are asked to take part.

Manufacturers are requested to stress work saving in their advertisements.

Immer said activities already are under way along those lines in the United States, England, Holland, France, South Africa, Germany, India and Finland. He expects a further boost for his program from "Work Saving Week" which is scheduled to start next Monday.

The professor won't be here for that celebration. He is leaving today on an expense-paid trip to England and the continent, to pep up the work savers there. The Mutual Security Agency is picking up the check.

Scientists Examine Dead Gulf Fish

Ft. Myers, Fla. (U)—Scientists are setting out to determine if the acres of dead fish seen floating in the Gulf of Mexico the past few days are caused by the dread red tide.

Three marine life experts of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service flew from Galveston, Tex., to Sarasota and a laboratory ship is on the way to join them.

Reports of dead fish are similar to those in 1947 when the red tide officials are asked to take part. Manufacturers are requested to stress work saving in their advertisements.

Immer said activities already are under way along those lines in the United States, England, Holland, France, South Africa, Germany, India and Finland. He expects a further boost for his program from "Work Saving Week" which is scheduled to start next Monday.

Fail to Settle Strike by H-Bomb Plant Workers

AUGUSTA, Ga. (U)—Efforts to settle a strike of technical workers at the huge H-bomb plant failed today and union spokesmen said picket lines would be re-established Monday.

About 200 members of the American Federation of Technical Engineers (AFTE) went on strike Monday, protesting the firing of six workers. Union leaders claimed the men were fired for union activity.

The picket lines were withdrawn Monday night pending further attempts to settle the dispute. Joseph Garvin, of Philadelphia, a union official, claimed the Monday picket lines shut down all work at the plant where 37,000 workers are employed in construction.

The union set this morning as a deadline for the Miller Electrical Co., of Jacksonville, Fla., a subcontractor at the plant, to re-hire the discharged workers. The company informed Garvin today it was unable to comply with the union's demands.

A company spokesman in Columbia, S. C., said last night, five of the workers were discharged because work the firm is engaged in is drawing to a close and the sixth

Grandma Robs Bank For Second Time

LOS ANGELES (U)—Grandma has struck again.

She got $1,212 in a Wilshire Boulevard holdup Oct. 17, and yesterday she held up the Union Bank and Trust Company on South Hill Street, getting $2,000.

The gray haired woman of about 60 handed June North, 23-year-old teller, a note reading: "Act natural. There are three guns on you. Give me all your money and give me three minutes to get away."

was released for "excessive abstinence."

President H. J. Miller of the Miller company said the union "by taking matters into its own hands x x x has caused many thousands of man hours to be lost to the defense effort."

Miller said the union had not been recognized as a bargaining unit on the project.

NCAA to Get More Teams For Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association today announced plans to increase the number of teams for its basketball tournament and at the same time shorten the season and reduce post-season competition.

The announcement came jointly from Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, and Arthur (Dutch) Lonzburg, University of Kansas athletic director and chairman of the NCAA basketball tournament committee.

The plans are dependent upon any recommendations which might come from the NCAA extra events committee, now completing a survey of post-season competition, and subject to any actions which might be taken at the association's annual convention in Washington, D. C., Jan. 8-10.

The NCAA, according to the announcement today, would better the administration and conduct of its tournament through the following devices:

1. Advance the date of the tournament one week. Regional games for 1953 would be held March 13-14 and the finals March 17-18.
2. Limit eligibility for the NCAA tournament each year to teams which compete in no other tournament after the close of their regularly scheduled playing season.
3. Increase the number of conferences whose champions will automatically qualify for the tournament. This will have the direct effect of strengthening conference playing leagues and developing more closely-knit and better-administered conferences.
4. Expand the tournament bracket to enable more member institutions to qualify for the tournament.

Sixteen teams were involved in the NCAA tournament last March. It was won by the University of Kansas. Four regional playoffs were held. The ten conference champions playing in 1952 were the Eastern Intercollegiate, Southern, Southeastern, Big Ten, Big Seven, Missouri Valley, Southwest Border, Mountain States and Pacific Coast.

Possibly five additional conferences will be added to the "automatically" qualifying list. The most likely would be the Rocky Mountain Conference, Mid-American Conference, New England Association, Mid-Atlantic Association and the New York Metropolitan League, according to Byers and Lonzburg.

Byers said the exact size of the expanded field and the final list of conferences to become automatic qualifiers will be announced later.

"The plans for tournament revision have been presented to and approved by the NCAA council and executive committee with the understanding that all plans for meets and tournaments of the association are subject to convention action," the statement said. "The council and executive committee acted on the changes because they believe this new plan will definitely shorten the season and will enable more teams to compete in the tournament with less travel and fewer days away from the campus."

Dallas Loses Its Professional Football Team

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas was without professional football today just 11 months after it brought in a franchise with fanfare and ballyhoo that said the game couldn't miss in this free-spending Texas.

The Dallas Texans, who lost seven games out of seven and almost a quarter of a million dollars, were orphaned yesterday when the 16 stockholders turned the franchise back to the National Football League. The Texans became a "road club" and play no more games in Dallas.

Cooled with the announcement that the Texans were quitting with a little more than half the season completed was the statement that a bid would be made to buy the club back when it came up for disposal probably next month.

Financial aid was obtained with a group of moneyed men willing to take over and operate on a three-year basis but John Coyne, one of the Texans' trustees, said "interim financing" could not be obtained. He explained that the Texans didn't have the money to operate during three weeks or more that would be required to effect legal transfer of the club to the new group. There were 40 bondholders who held, in effect, a mortgage on the franchise. That created the legal technicalities.

Giles Miller, young Dallas textile operator who bought the New York Yanks franchise last winter and formed a syndicate to operate it here, said that while a small minority of the owners was willing to make funds available to operate further "we were unable to obtain necessary co-operation from any others."

Pro Golfers End Confabs

CHICAGO (AP)—The Professional Golfers Association of America has ended its annual convention in apparent harmony.

There was a minimum of friction yesterday when the PGA rejected by a 47 vote, a proposal to change the pattern of play on its national tournament, to be held in 1953 at Birmingham, Mich., July 1-7. A spokesman previously had said this would be a tough obstacle. Behind the scenes lobbying apparently was effective.

The proposal would change the meet to four days of medal play, the 15 best scorers, plus the defending champion, then entering three days of match play for the title.

Delegates, consisting mainly of club pros, killed the proposal for second straight year. This keeps the meet the same as it has been for 36 years—strictly match play after two days of qualifying to determine a 64-man field.

Ex-Catcher, Who Got Bums' Rush Often, Still Likes Umps

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Garrulous Mickey Grasso, Washington Senator catcher who used to get the bounce more than a rubber ball, says he hopes machines never will replace the umpires.

As a player who paid $1,100 in fines for sassing the men in blue in one season, the 30-year-old back-talking backstop was asked what he thought about using an electric eye on close plays and gradually doing away with the arbiters.

"No. I hope nothing will ever take the place of my good friends,"

MU Will Use Its Split T At Oklahoma

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The inventor of split T football hasn't junked it after all.

Don Faurot, daddy of the sliding system of attack, says his Missouri Tigers will depend on the split T in defending their Big Seven conference lead against powerful Oklahoma at Norman, Okla., Saturday.

In fact it will be strictly a split T affair since coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners have prospered on that type of attack since Wilkinson took over at Oklahoma in 1948.

Missouri is being rated the underdog by three touchdowns or more, but despite the outcome Saturday the Tigers have already double-crossed the experts. They can get no worse than a tie for second place in the final standings. In pre-season guessing, they were assigned to the second division.

And Faurot says he's more than ever sold on the split T. "We had to resort to a wide spread passing attack last year because we had a freshman and sophomore squad," Faurot said. "We didn't have the overall power and finesse to cope with the more experienced teams."

Early this season Missouri leaned towards the spread in close but losing battles with Maryland and California as its split T efforts sputtered.

A T. C. Southern Methodist defeated the Tigers 23-7 in the fourth game Faurot forgot the spread and started work on a split T attack. With passer Tony Scardino in the ball handling role and Jim Hook, Nick Carras and Bill Roweckamp doing the running, Missouri whipped Iowa State, Nebraska and Colorado in that order.

Missouri has lost all four of and Oklahoma A. and M. in league play, the Tigers have four victories and no defeats.

Oklahoma, beaten only by Notre Dame in seven starts, has won three and tied one (with Colorado) in the Big Seven.

The Sooners have three first-string players on the injury list. Halfback Buddy Leake has a sprained ankle in a cast. Linemen Ed Rowland and Doc Heaton are also sidelined.

The Missouri squad is in good condition except or bill rowekamp. The ace halfback has been idle this week because of an ankle injury.

One other Big Seven conference game is scheduled this weekend. Kansas State meets Colorado at non-league game with Minnesota at Minneapolis and Kansas plays Oklahoma A. and M. at Lawrence, Kas., Iowa State has an open date.

Drake Receiver Leads Nation As Pass Catcher

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe McClaren, a six-foot, one-inch junior from Erie, Pa., leads the nation's major college football players in passes caught, figures released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau revealed today.

McClaren is virtually a one-man offense for the Drake team. He has snatched 42 passes from the team's tossers, which is just half the completed passes of the eleven.

In addition, he has accounted yardage.

the ump," replied Grasso. "The human element is essential to the game."

Grasso holds the opinion that umpires, "bad as some of them may be," always will be a part of the game. He said the angles from which a play can be viewed clearly often change in a split-second and a mechanical eye might be trained on the wrong spot and miss the call.

The 6-foot, 190-pound receiver batted a measly .217 for Bucky Harris in 117 games this year but still earned praise from Nat owner Clark Griffith as "a stimulant to the whole team."

Grasso, a product of Newark's sandlots, got the heave-ho 23 times and shelled out $1,100 in fines while catching for Seattle of the Pacific Coast League in 1949. This year he was ejected only once.

What took the tart out of his tongue?

"I just made up my mind that I wasn't going to get thrown out, and I haven't. I guess I've just mellowed," said Grasso.

Grasso doesn't think Griffith will sell third baseman Eddie Yost to the Yankees as is frequently rumored in the hot stove circuit. "They'll never deal him, because he's the backbone of our club," he said.

If the deal does go through, Grasso added, Casey Stengel's crew will make it five world championships in a row.

Hayes Dreaming Of Middleweight Boxing Crown

DETROIT (AP)—Norman Hayes, who flicked the blood out of his eye and turned an apparent defeat into a technical knockout victory, day-dreamed today of the middleweight boxing title.

Hayes, 160½ pounds, of Boston, stopped Joey DeJohn, 165, Syracuse, at 1:44 minutes of the third round of last night's nationally-televized fight, scheduled for ten rounds.

DeJohn was confidently boring in, trying to widen a bleeding gash over Hayes' right eye when Hayes floored him with a right to the side of the head. Hayes dropped him twice more and Referee Johnny Weber stopped the fight.

Afterwards, Hayes, who has been unsuccessful recently against light-heavyweight, said, "from now on I'm sticking to the middle weight."

Hayes hopes for a chance at the middleweight title should Champion Sugar Ray Robinson retire as expected.

"This boy is the best in the middleweight class now," said Hayes' manager, Johnny Buckley, and he's still a year away from his peak."

Buckley hopes to take Hayes to Paris for a bout with another leading contender, Charley Humez. Hayes lost a disputed split decision to Humez some time ago.

DeJohn, 24-year-old who knocked out Irish Bob Murphy in September, was leading on every scorecard when the end came.

Moose Cagers Engage Odessa Here Tonight

With their sights set on an even 2-2 record for the season, the Sedalia Moose Club basketball team will engage the flashy Odessa Boosters at 8 tonight at the Whittier School gymnasium.

Little is known of the player personnel or record of the Odessa aggregation this season, but in past years it has always been a colorful, high-scoring outfit.

After suffering two narrow losses early in the season, the Moose team found its eye last week to defeat the steadily improving Sedalia Air Force Base five by a 48-41 count.

Bowl Pickings Get Slimmer, Deadline Nears

NEW YORK (AP)—The football bowl pickings are getting slimmer and slimmer as the deadline nears for the selection of the representatives in the post-season gridiron classics.

Another conference bowed out of the picture officially last night when the faculty committee of the Big Seven ruled to abide by the circuit's present rule which prohibits any post-season competition.

That action put a quietus on reports that Oklahoma and possibly some other members of the conference would seek permission to play on New Year's Day. Once-beaten Oklahoma had been mentioned as a possible participant in the Sugar, Cotton and Orange Bowls.

As the situation now stands only the Rose Bowl is definitely set with the Pacific Coast Conference winner, probably Southern California or U.C.L.A., opposing the Big 10 champion.

The Cotton Bowl is sure of the Southwest Conference titleholder as the host team. Right now Texas is in line for that honor. Georgia Tech, powerhouse of the Southeastern League has accepted an invitation to play in the Sugar Bowl.

If Florida gets past Tennessee Saturday, then the Gators can look for an Orange Bowl bid. They have lost to Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech but only by a combined margin of 10 points. The Vols of Tennessee, with a 6-1 record, also have eyes on one of the major bowls.

Mississippi, another member of the Southeastern Conference, likewise is looking toward the Rebels have a Saturday engagement with powerful Maryland. The Terrapins themselves would like very much to travel to the sunny climes on Jan. 1 but they are on probation for playing in the Sugar Bowl last New Year's Day and are not likely to risk additional punishment by the Southern Conference.

Even the pickings among the independents are not plentiful. Without attempting to list them in order of possible preference the leading eligibles include Pittsburgh, Syracuse and Holy Cross and possibly Villanova—all Eastern outfits.

Pittsburgh has defeated by Oklahoma and West Virginia on the wrong side, Syracuse has dropped two, one to Bowling Field and the other to No. 1 ranked Michigan State. Holy Cross has lost only to Syracuse but has not played an impressive schedule. Villanova definitely was in running until smothered 42-6 last week by Tulsa.

Stengel Field Is Dedicated In Casey's Home at Glendale

GLENDAL, Calif. (AP)—Baseball's Casey Stengel stood back of the little grandstand, completely surrounded by a swarm of youngsters getting his autograph.

Two tall men, one neatly dressed in a business suit, the other in the uniform of a Marine aviation captain, managed to squeeze through the mob just back of Casey.

The location was the dedication of the municipal park, which isn't far from the New York Yankee manager's home, as "Stengel Field."

Nearly 3,000 kids got out of school early for the celebration and heard the city's mayor, Paul J. Burkhard, praise old Casey as Glendale's leading citizen.

The kids kept up a steady din and Casey responded with typical Stengelsean oratory.

"I feel greatly honored," said Casey, "to have a ball park named after me, especially since I've been thrown out of so many ball parks."

Casey umpired a kids' ball game for a few innings and last night was honored at a civic banquet at the Oakmont Country Club.

O yes, about those two older gentlemen seeking the Stengel autograph.

The Marine pushed a scrap of paper forward and then the other showed in another sheet of paper.

Casey, head down and deeply engrossed with his pen, signed both with studied care. Then, slowly, as if wondering what was going on, he looked up. The Stengel grin

Veck Criticizes Congressman Who Hits Mantle Action

KIRKSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Bill Veck, owner of the St. Louis Browns baseball club, sharply criticized a St. Louis congressman yesterday for bringing up the draft status of Mickey Mantle, New York Yankee star outfielder.

Veck declared that it was a "cheap way of making headlines. Mantle is ready to serve his country whenever called just as any other patriotic young citizen."

Rep. Thomas P. Curtis said Tuesday he wanted an investigation of the army's draft method to determine its consistency. He listed two cases in which he said the army had accepted men with serious physical deficiencies for limited service. The congressman added that he wasn't criticizing Mantle personally. The Yankee outfielder was rejected because of a chronic knee injury.

Rivera Gets Off Easy With Commissioner

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick used the velvet fist treatment in placing Jim Rivera, Chicago White Sox rookie, on indefinite probation.

Baseball's boss could have barred the 29-year-old New York-born Puerto Rican from baseball, but instead he put the speedy outfielder on probation yesterday and warned him that if he failed to "toe the line" he would be banished permanently.

Rivera was cleared by the Cook County (Ill.) Grand Jury on a rape charge last month, but Frick maintained the Sox outfielder is guilty "of a certain type of moral delinquency."

Frick, in handing down his decision said that he "could not place himself in the position of going over the heads of an American jury."

The Chicago White Sox will be held responsible for Rivera's actions on and off the field and will have to submit a report to Frick's office if the controversial outfielder misbehaves in any way.

The commissioner also prohibited the Chicago club from transferring the player's contract for a period of one year and the only way the White Sox can dispose of him is by voluntary retirement or suspension.

"The commissioner recognizes, as does the Chicago American League club," Frick said, "that they have an obligation to the public to maintain the highest possible standards of morality among all men who are connected with the game."

The White Sox player was sentenced to prison on a rape charge while he was serving in the Army. Last Sept. 28 he was charged with raping a 22-year-old married woman in Chicago. Rivera admitted being intimate with the woman but denied using force.

In Chicago, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the White Sox, said she was delighted over the commissioner's ruling.

William Harridge, president of the American League, said he was in complete accord with Frick's decision.

The St. Louis Cardinals unveiled four winning rookie hurlers last season in Stu Miller, Wilmer Mizell, Ed Yuhas and Harvey Had-dix.

Sweet Patootie, contender for juvenile filly honors for 1952, is one of the smallest horses in racing today. She stands only 14 hands, two inches high.

Funny Business By Hershberger

"My husband's an inventor—he rigged this up to wake him every hour to take his cold medicine!"

OUT OUR WAY By J. R. Williams

DOUBLE-TROUBLE TWINS — Danny and Rudy Cienfuegos, four-year-old twins, are safe—for the moment—behind bars of their bed in a Los Angeles emergency hospital. The twins, who have a lethal appetite, were given a quick pumping-out after downing a "cocktail" that they mixed, with poison as the main ingredient. Their first venture in deadly gastronomy was made two years ago, when they each swallowed 50 aspirin tablets.

Oil Industry Expects Big, Busy Future

CHICAGO (AP)—A word picture of a big and busy future for the oil industry was placed before the American Petroleum Institute today.

It was sketched by T. S. Petersen of San Francisco, president of the Standard Oil Company of California.

"By 1975," he said, "we'll be driving 65 million automobiles, about one third more than jam the highways today. Plus 20 million trucks — double the number in use."

That brought up the question of whether there is enough oil in prospect to meet the needs of the next 25 years. Petersen wasn't worried about supplies. He stated at the closing session of the institute's annual meeting:

"Last year we found more oil than in any other year in history—five billion barrels, which is more than twice as much as we produced. We started 1952 with a new record reserve — 32,200,000,000 barrels of crude and natural gas liquids. xxx

"We know that oil may be found anywhere within an estimated 2,400,000 square miles of sedimentary formation. Yet all of our present reserves is scattered over just one per cent of that tremendous expanse.

"The potentially rich tidelands of the continental shelf are largely undeveloped."

Petersen also touched on the outlook for such sources of energy as coal, natural gas, oil and the harnessed atom.

Oil and gas together account for 57 per cent of the total today," he said, "and our experts tell us we can expect that approximate ratio to continue for the next 25 years. xxx

"Within 20 years atomic energy, probably in the form of large stationary power plants, may be able to compete economically with oil and coal energy. However, I believe these plants will supplement rather than supplant present power sources."

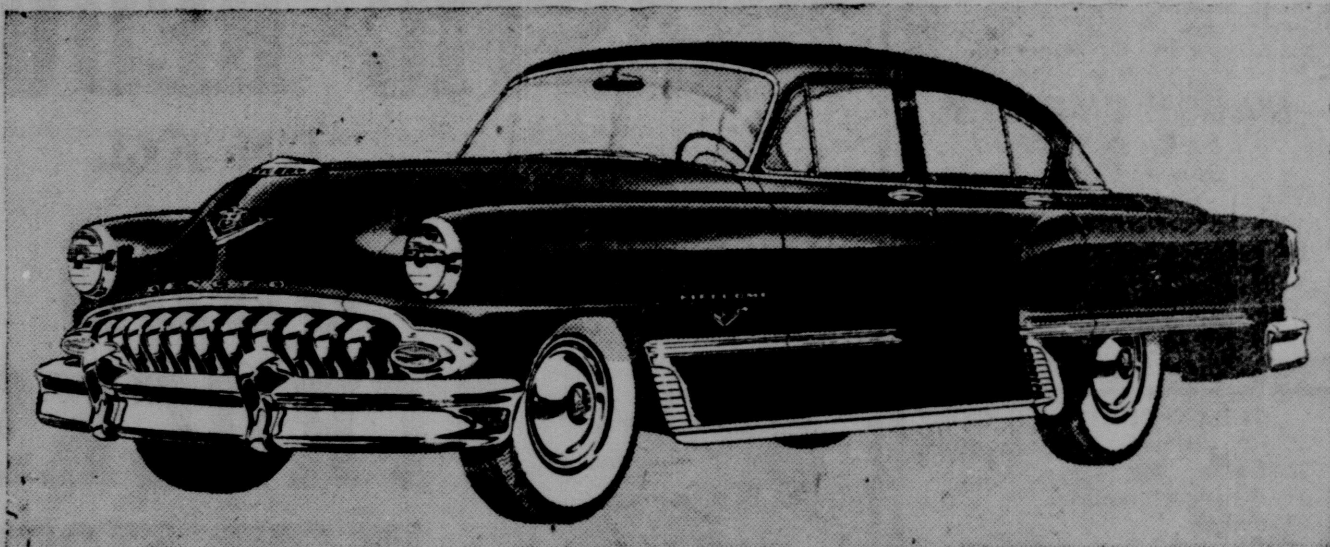

One of Three, Who Were Overcome by Gas Fumes Tuesday, Dies

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Marie Johann, 50, a member of a family of three overcome by carbon monoxide fumes in their home Tuesday, died at City Hospital yesterday.

Her husband, 52-year-old Frank Johann, and her daughter, Ruth, 20, are still hospitalized. The three were found unconscious by police who broke into the home at the request of neighbors.

The fumes were distributed throughout the house by a furnace blower. A hot water heater near the furnace was the source of the gas.

NEW DESOTO BOWS TO PUBLIC at Askew Motor Co. Featuring a completely new body, the beautiful 1953 DeSoto goes on display Thursday. Shown here is a Fire Dome V-8 4-door sedan, which is powered by DeSoto's sensational 160-horsepower Fire Dome engine. Six body styles are offered in the Fire Dome V-8 series, while five body types are available in DeSoto's Powermaster Six line. The 1953 DeSoto offers such features as full power steering; power brakes; fluid torque drive; Solex glare-resistant glass; electric window lifts; curved one-piece windshield and sweep-around rear window. The smart styling and long, low lines of the 1953 DeSoto make the new car longer, lower, wider and lovelier than ever before.

Green Grass Is His Specialty, And His Results Are Envied

If you have lived in Sedalia longer than a month, chances are you have already noticed that one grass lawn is greener than all the others.

It is green right now, while all else is brown and dead. It will continue to stay green all winter despite snow and freezing weather and next spring it will look fresher than ever. To top it off, it has been that way for ten years.

We're talking about the lawn in front of H. Oliver Foraker's home at 306 West Third. There is the kind of lawn every home owner dreams about as he thumbs thru the garden catalogs piled on his desk and it is also the kind of lawn that few home owners ever achieve.

"Achieve" is the right word to use, because it takes a lot of work to maintain such a stand of grass, according to Mr. Foraker.

"The seed stores here in town are constantly being asked," he says, "about the kind of seed I use and whether I use a special mixture." He chuckles at that because, as he explains, "I use ordinary seed, just like everyone else, but I spend a little more time at it."

What kind of seed is "ordinary" seed?

Mr. Foraker uses perennial rye and fescue for growth and body, and blue grass, bent grass and red top for thick turf. When asked whether he mixed them in any particular portions, he said, "No, I just use the kind that seems to be needed at the moment."

"What most people don't seem to realize," he added, "is that a lawn needs occasional reseeding. My lawn usually declines during the hot months of July and August no matter what I do to it and I reseed it once the hot spell is over. The best time, I think, is around the end of August or the beginning of September, when the fall growth is just beginning."

At least once a day Mr. Foraker is asked by someone passing by how he keeps his grass so green. "Some of the school kids have asked me that," he says with a grin "and I tell them it's because I put green water on it. That seems to satisfy them completely."

The real answer, however, he explains, is constant daily attention. Every day the lawn must be watered and, during the spring growing season, weeded.

"Crabgrass can take over a lawn in two weeks," he says. "It isn't true that maintaining a thick lawn will crowd out crabgrass. The young shoots will sprout up overnight and must be pulled out right away before they can rise above the grass and then press down on it, smothering it."

How about fertilizer? "I fertilize the lawn twice in the spring and twice in the fall," he answers. "I use both Vigoro and a fertilizer containing about 21 per cent nitrogen, which I obtain from the MFA. The fertilizer should be put on when the grass is dry and then it should be watered well to soak the fertilizer down to the roots."

Mr. Foraker just recently limed his lawn, too, on the advice of the county agent, Roy Coplen, who analyzed his soil for him. The lime will counteract acidity in the soil.

Of course all this attention to his lawn really makes the grass sprout fast, and there comes the unrelenting need for mowing it. "I cut it about twice a week," says Mr. Foraker nonchalantly.

Why so often, he was asked. "Well, grass should be cut as tall as possible," he answered. "I have the wheels of my mower built up with strips of rubber, and I attached a larger roller. And since the grass is cut tall, it has to be cut oftener, especially during the spring growing season and in the fall."

Asked how he ever got started on his hobby of a dream lawn, he said several friends had been talking about it for some time. When he retired from business, he turned ed to gardening for a pastime. His success has been so marked that not long ago a woman from St. Louis stopped by while he was working outside and took notes as he explained his success secrets.

"Farmers are constantly telling me how much they'd like to have about 40 acres of grass like mine," he says, obviously pleased, "but of course that would be impossible. I've learned that it can be done only on a small scale because of all the work required. My small front lawn takes all my time and effort."

"Take the job of seeding, for instance," he continues. "Most people scatter seed broadcast and then just leave it there. I scatter the seed thickly over every bit of ground, then jab it beneath the surface of ground with a rake. The seed should be poked under, not raked back and forth. Seeding is the toughest job of all."

Sometimes, he admits, he becomes discouraged when the hot summer months thin the grass and weeds keep popping up. "But, on the other hand," he says, "it's a lot of fun, too. I enjoy watching the school kids come by, stop to look at the lawn, and pass their hands over it to feel how soft and cool it is. And it looks lovely just after the snow begins to melt and let the green shoots show through."

That's why, whenever people ask him what his profession is, Mr. Foraker gently informs them, "I specialize in green grass."

Senator Long Needs Recipe to Prepare Peckerwood Dressing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Got a good recipe for peckerwood dressing? Send it to Sen. Long (D-La.). He needs it.

In the recent election campaign Long, a Stevenson supporter, said in a talk that if the Republicans were returned to power the country would be back on a diet of "fried rabbit and peckerwood dressing."

Well, as might be expected, he's had several letters asking for the recipe. Unfortunately, he doesn't have one.

"It's an expression I picked up from an old timer down in Louisiana," he told a reporter. "But the dressing, well, make it just like any dressing—with peckerwood and stuff."

"Yeah," said Bruce Tucker, his administrative aide, "sawdust and seasoning."

(The dictionary says peckerwood is a woodpecker).
